Also reduce the weight — planes need light

Liquid hydrogen — to contain a kind of hydrogen you need 5-10 kg

Ammonia does good for shipping.

Prob w. ammonia is that to do it burn by itself — you need hydrogen
If Ammonia also releases nitrous oxide in atmosphere
You need to scrub it out & keep it in the air craft.

Merseyside

Manchester

Lancashire County council. East Lancashire and Burg a lot or on West Lea Cold. They don't operate at public/bars are a place of transmission.
They can do more enforcement
They want more cash.

Merseyside a bit different.
Limited resources for enforcement.
They are making 400 redundancies

N/E have had fast rise – but feel like tier 2 interventions are having an effect – They want more time for tripts to have an effect

West Yorkshire

They are knackered. They haven't got the resources — ||

Tees Valley / Darlington — 2 weeks from the [illegible] they need to go public

Engagement

Merseyside : to do more engagement we need more resources —

Contact tracing — more & more has been devoted to local authorities. Getting people out door to door
They don't believe in random phone calls
We need to give them resource.
Lots of volunteers — people who have relationships
What we can do is letter control their assets → But we can't

In a couple of weeks time, a strong argt for giving Merseyside first dibs on lateral flow tests

Boots on the local grid. Not all about people engaging in draconian way

Electric arc is smaller & less capex
Tata have asked us to put in £1.8bn to modernise
If we closed the site it would cost £2bn to remediate it
Buying it in Jan Holland would be very expensive
Unlike hospitality, it's lots of skilled labour
Other options v. diff. Dingyee + liberty
Talbot is flats, they would shut at least one blast furnace

Alok: do we want to tell reading to continue at opportunity in domestic market –

Turnover of Tata is £2.4 bn

wind power

2017 report said extra £3.1 bn in UK market — & we could find that from import substitution, Austria has added £1 bn to electric arc. How do we sustain it on big them

By British Act

Rishi: 1) 3400 direct job losses in electric arc plan.
2) It wd cost WAY MORE than £26m
It doesn't include cost of remediation. Will cost £500m more.
3) They are only putting in a fortnightly [illegible] a year
4) They want to guarantee energy prices — wd be £30 a household
3) We are talking £400,000 per job saved — assuming cost only £1.96m
4) support like this wd be illegal with WTO.
US + EU wd be able to stop tariffs on our steel — of which 50% is exported. In 90s US put tariffs on British steel — we ad

Re-rolling plan has job losses happening sooner

Russia, India, etc all

Ed (1) They don't feel this an immediate prob
(2) They see student numbers dropping
(3) They claim no offer: what they have been asking for – test & trace locally
(4) Happy w. £8 but not the support for workers. They want more money
(5) They want more than any other authority.

Jewish (1) They think they can swap the hospitals
(2) fundamental disagreement about support
(3) They are walking away from £100m

Vicki Josephs
(1) we should put in writing potential for business support
(2) A package — the same as Lancashire & Liverpool
(3) £8 a head + share of £16m
(4) Business support withheld
(5) bars, pubs closed — except where meals
casinos, bingos, soft play gyms
(6) we cd do more

Hancock (1) we cd give the same or slightly less pressure
(2) gyms — want to open them in Liverpool
(3) 5 or 6 tories wd agree

Priti police don't have power to force entry to gyms

NHS winter preparedness

The overall waiting-list is still lower than it was

We have a short who were on it — who need an operation but it's not urgent.

Under 2000 waiting more than a year for an operation —

We now have 140,000 waiting for more than a year

We need to have enough bed capacity

How much extra capacity can we create — electric care pipeline

If you do test everyone every 15 days

1/3 in level 2
20% in level 3 19% of Eqlt in level 3

Warrington will go into Level 3 on Tue.
It takes about a week

We need to get R below 1 by 28 Oct to avoid a worse outcome.

We will get more information in what couple of weeks about Liverpool, Lancashire, etc.

We shd do more in way out of that compliance w. self-Bolder is very low

The electoral college meeting on 14 December after the states have certified their results.
Nothing before that formal decision. The legal challenges are looking to end by 14 Dec. In principle they could run on till 20th Jan. If there is still a dispute the speaker of the greeps take over.
Lawsuits and bring themselves.
