Sweetheart you left to another room and I don't want to bother you anymore. I will leave , but I don't have any money to get home or to give to my landlord for rent or at least a part of it. Could you still help me with this please? Money you gave me the first day I used to pay my storage bill and got some stuff. Please let me know what you want me to do. I'm sorry I was rude last night , but I just felt hurt when you said to somebody that I'm autistic .
