Dear Boris,

I would like to offer my sincere thanks for your support for Airbus over the last three years.

During this time we have been able to reinvigorate our strategic partnership with the UK Government on Jet Zero, R&D and innovation, defence & space and exports and I'm grateful for the engagement of you and your Cabinet across several departments which has led to such a strong and enduring relationship.

I'm particularly grateful that you were able to officially open Airbus' new £35m UK space and defence headquarters in Stevenage last year and that you visited our world-leading wing facility in Broughton this August with Nadhim Zahawi and Robert Buckland.

We will continue to build on the work that you and your team have done over the last three years and I hope to see you again when I'm visiting the UK.

With my personal & best regards,

Guillaume Faury
