

JUL 15 2004

MEMORANDUM FOR DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE EXECUTIVE AGENT FOR INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY STANDARDS
(ATTN: THE CHAIRMAN, INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY STANDARDS COMMITTEE)

SUBJECT: Department of Defense Information Technology Standards Registry Baseline
Release 04-1.0.

References: (a) DoD Directive 4630.5, Interoperability and Supportability of Information Technology (IT) and National Security Systems (NSS),
May 5, 2004.
(b) DoD Directive 5101.7, *DoD Executive Agent for Information
Technology Standards*, May 21, 2004.

The Department of Defense Information Technology Standards Registry (DISR) replaces the Joint Technical Architecture (JTA), in accordance with reference (a).
In accordance with reference (b) and under the direction of the DoD CIO, the chairs of the Information Technology Standards Oversight Panel approve the attached changes to the DISR baseline standards recommended by the Information Technology Standards Committee (ITSC). Please post the approved changes to establish DISR Baseline Release 04-1.0.

Extend our thanks to the members of the ITSC and the Information Technology Standards Working Groups. Together we shall continue to improve the process for prescribing the minimal essential set of information technology standards needed to achieve a net-centric DoD.

Priscilla E. Guthrie
Department of Defense
Deputy CIO

N. Brown
Rear Admiral, USN
Vice Director, Command, Control, Communications, and Computers Systems
Joint Staff

Robert J. Skalamera
Deputy Director,
Systems Engineering
Enterprise Development
Under Secretary of Defense (Acquisition Technology & Logistics)

Attachment:
As stated
cc: ITSC Members